

ALBERTO DELLA CHIESA

Executive Vice President, Global Trade Compliance
ST Italy Managing Director
STMicroelectronics

Alberto Della Chiesa is STMicroelectronics' Executive Vice President, Managing Director of ST's Italian subsidiary and Head of Global Trade Compliance. He has held these roles since January 2026.

Della Chiesa joined STMicroelectronics as a New Product Planning Engineer in 1988 and pioneered a number of successful collaborative programs with major key customers. Later, Della Chiesa covered different positions in both Planning and Operations and was appointed Director, Planning & Service for the Computer Peripherals Group in 2005, contributing to the creation of ST's first operations and planning structure in Singapore. Over time, Della Chiesa rose to become Group Vice President of Supply Chain, followed by the nomination of General Manager and consequently Head of Operations and Supply Chain for ST's Computers and Communications Infrastructure Product Group. Since 2012, he led the Company's Global Supply Chain Organization driving the transformation initiatives aimed at building a competitive and resilient supply chain, and was appointed Executive VP in 2018.

Alberto Della Chiesa was born in Varese, Italy, in 1964, and holds a Bachelor's degree in Statistics from the Catholic University of Milan, with a specialization in the manufacturing processes. He is also CPIM certified with the American Production and Inventory Control Society (APICS) in Paris, France.
